- * The material is fragile. It is forbidden to throw, shake, freeze. Operation and transportation at a temperature of 1-100 degrees Celsius, without temperature differences. When it freezes, the tiles crack.
- Basically, to reveal the beauty of the product, use the backlight on the back of the tile. For this purpose the construction from light panels on which the tile by means of transparent assembly glue fastens is mounted.
- In the case of installation on the floor, countertops, bar counters - the surface of the tile is covered with hot glass. On the uncovered amber you can only walk barefoot.

Amber tile is an organic material and eventually oxidizes, covered with a thin layer of amber acid (succinic acid). In this case, the color becomes darker. But under regular polishing this imperceptibly. However, the appearance of succinic acid on the surface of the tile can be attributed to the positive qualities of the product.

The use of succinic acid improves the contractility of the heart, which prevents circulatory disorders, the appearance of edema and dysfunction of all organs and systems. Acid stimulates the kidneys and liver, which helps to cleanse the body of harmful substances.

In addition to the above, succinic acid has a positive effect on human reproductive functions. Future parents, using food additives with this substance, not only provide themselves with good health, but also lay the health for their future children.
